

GIS Tutorial

for

Health

2015 GIS WORKSHOP
SATURDAY MARCH 7TH 2015
INTRODUCTORY SESSION
GIScience in MEDICINE and HEALTH

An interactive geospatial (STEM) seminar

The Charles Drew Medical GIS laboratory is pleased to announce the CDU GIS Workshop series in GISc and Health. In these trainings, the CDU GIS Lab director, Paul Robinson, PhD and his team will open up their research lab for intensive training in the use of GISc in Public Health and Medicine. The workshop includes a GIS Health Tutorial Book with 180-day free trial ArcGIS software.

*Space is limited, times and dates are subject to change.

Acquire a Health
 GIS Analyst Certificate of Completion that provides Valuable Research and Employment Skills

Gain basic Competency in Geospatial Theories and Methods from an accomplished

Medical

Geographer

Sliding fees to participate:

- CDU Students $150
- Other Students $200
- CDU Staff $250
- CDU Faculty $350
- All Others $450

CHARLES DREW MEDICAL GIS LAB

1731 E. 120th Street Los Angeles,
 CA 90059
<http://medgis.cdrewu.edu>
 Times will be determined by the CDMGIS Laboratory. For more info on dates and times or to register contact Daniel Ryan at danielryan@cdrewu.edu or
 (323) 249-5727